Our Reputation Is Everything

In today's highly competitive building business, customers are well educated about what they want in a home. They appreciate quality when they see it. By offering great value, without compromising design, workmanship and materials, Metro Signature Homes has been able to capture the attention and tastes of the most discriminating home buyer. And when customers are satisfied with their new home and the personal service they receive, reputation spreads quickly.

Personal Attention To Detail

Success is built on details. The small, seemingly insignificant details that together separate a Metro Signature Home from any other home. Loyal, quality oriented professional contractor teams, schooled in the art of craftsmanship, work with a philosophy of understanding all aspects of our customer's specific needs. Every Metro Signature Home is carefully monitored during construction to assure that the end result is a home that meets the company's rigid standards of excellence.

Your Home Is A Lasting Investment

Over the years, home buyers have expressed their appreciation of the level of quality in the design and the construction of Metro Signature Homes. The longer they live in their homes the greater their pleasure. Your home is a very significant investment and the long-term livability and maintenance are important purchase considerations.

Many home buyers begin their new home search by asking about size and cost. However, it is also essential to know what is included in the base cost of a home, and to inspect the quality of the design, materials and workmanship. Spending a few additional dollars initially can translate into many dollars saved years from now. There are homes in the area that have been around for 100 years or more, yet they are still very beautiful. In contrast, there are production-style homes that are only several years old and are showing their age prematurely.

An investment in a good home is an asset that will provide long lasting benefits.

An investment in a great home - a Metro Signature Home - is an emotional and financial commitment that will have positive returns for generations to come.
